

A vibrant, cartoon-style illustration of an underwater scene. A large blue whale with a white belly is the central focus, swimming towards the left. Sunlight rays stream down from the surface, creating a bright, blue atmosphere. Bubbles rise from the whale's blowholes. The background is filled with various colorful fish, including striped and yellow ones, and diverse coral reefs in shades of green, orange, and red. The overall style is playful and suitable for children's educational materials.
